12 Angry Jurors Costume Design

Madelyn Fritz

"It is the policy of the court that male jurors wear coat and tie, and female jurors wear dresses or pantsuits. Jeans are not considered appropriate attire for jury duty."

"Your attire should show respect for the court. Because you may serve on a jury the first day you report to serve, you should wear clothing reasonably befitting the dignity and solemnity of the court proceedings. Local judges may restrict certain attire, such as shorts, cutoff, sleeveless shirts, sandals, and hats. Also, you should dress comfortably because you may be in the courthouse for the entire day. You might also bring a light sweater or jacket in case the temperature in the courthouse is somewhat cold."

"All persons entering the courtroom should be dressed in clothing reasonably befitting the dignity and solemnity of the court proceedings. All cell phones and pagers should be turned off upon entering the courtroom. Appropriate clothing is required. No shorts, no halter tops, and no bare midriffs will be permitted. Please also remove your hat upon entering the courtroom."
